

Chapelgate's Tringali will play at Clarks Summit

Written by Staff
07/23/17

Recent Yellow Jacket grad was a three-year letter winner

Basketball player Jake Tringali, who graduated from Chapelgate Christian Academy last spring, has committed to play college basketball at Clarks Summit University, an NCAA Division 3 school in Pennsylvania.

Tringali played three seasons of varsity basketball at Chapelgate and helped propel the Yellow Jackets to the Harford Christian School Tournament championship last winter. He was a captain during his senior season and represented Chapelgate in the Howard County Seniors All-Star Game.

At Clarks Summit, he will compete in the Colonial States Athletic Conference (CSAC) and play for head coach Joel Nietz.

Last Updated (Sunday, 23 July 2017 08:57)